BOSTON, February 15, 1901.

HON. THOMAS N. HART,

Mayor of the City of Boston :

SIR, — In compliance with the requirements of Section 24, of Chapter 3, of the Revised Ordinances, the Board of Election Commissioners respectfully submits its annual report for the year 1900.

The work of the Department has increased each year since its reorganization, in 1895, and the past year has shown a larger increase in business than in previous years. Registration has greatly exceeded the figures previously recorded. This is, in our opinion, mainly due to the fact of the Presidential election, though the lively caucus contests in many districts for nomination to State and City offices contributed largely to the heavy supplementary registration of male voters. In anticipation of this large supplementary registration, which was looked for during the month of September, as the law prohibits supplementary assessments in this City after October first, we conferred with the Assessing Department with a view to securing their co-operation in establishing places for outside registration in the several wards to relieve the rush at the central office. As there were but nine officers in the Assessors' office empowered to administer the required oath to persons applying to be supplementarily assessed as a condition precedent to registration, and as the twenty-five wards could not therefore be properly covered by the assessors, we found it impracticable to carry out the plan. We believed that so large a number of persons desiring to be registered would also require assessment, and that they could be better accommodated under the circumstances by continuing the September registration at the central office. The public were informed by advertisement in the daily papers that the office would be open from September first to October first, inclusive, from nine o'clock in the morning until ten o'clock in the evening for registration, and the Assessing Department also kept their office open until the same hour in the evening. We believe that all applicants were thus taken care of, although during the latter part of the time it was necessary to continue work in the evening much beyond the advertised time.

On the printed list prepared from the returns of the Assessing Department, and published prior to September first, the number of registered male voters was 87,439. At the City election in 1899 there were 102,875 names on the voting list, thus 15,436 names were dropped in the first printed list of 1900. At the close of registration, prior to the last State election, the voting list contained the names of 106,967 male voters. The list sent to the polls on the day of the election contained 106,526 voters, 441 names having been dropped in the necessary revision on account of death, removal, and other causes. There were 107,320 names on the list at the close of registration prior to the City election, but in revising the list for use at the polls 441 names were removed, so that the final list contained the names of 106,879 registered voters. This number exceeded by 4,004 the list at the City election in 1899, which, up to that time, was the heaviest registration in the City. The highest number of votes cast for Mayor was in 1899, when the total vote for all candidates was 81,341. At the Municipal election in 1900 no Mayor was elected, but the vote for the office of Street Commissioner was 71,428, though the 3,535 blank ballots for this office showed a total vote of 74,963 at this election, a large falling off from the vote of the previous year. At the State election in 1900 the vote cast in this City for Presidential electors was estimated to be 83,679, and the vote for Governor was 78,045. The vote for Presidential electors in 1896 was 82,198, being 1,481 less than the similar vote four years later, while the vote for Governor in 1896, which was 80,405, exceeded by 2,360 the vote for the same office in 1900. The United States census of 1890 gave the population of the City as 448,477, while the registered voters in that year was 65,534, or 14.61 per cent. of the population. The census of 1900, recently published, shows the population of the City to be 560,892; the registered male voters at the last City election numbered 106,879, or 19.17 per cent. of the population. A substantial increase in the registered vote during the ten years thus appears, as well as a larger proportional increase in the registration as compared with the population of the City.

CAUCUSES AND ELECTIONS.

The caucuses of the two leading political parties prior to the State and City elections were on the whole conducted in an orderly manner. We believe that the change in the law requiring the election of ward committees and the nomination of candidates for Representatives in the General Court and the Common Council to be made at one of the two regular caucuses, instead of at separate caucuses, as was the former custom with one of the two leading political parties is now generally accepted as an improvement. We were called upon to provide for the holding of the caucuses by the two leading political parties prior to the City election on two successive evenings, as in 1899, but the ballots at the first caucus were all counted and returned to us by nine o'clock of the following day, so that we were able to make suitable arrangements for the second caucus. There is yet a possibility of a recurrence of the condition of affairs existing in 1899, when in one ward the count of the ballots cast the first evening was not concluded until two hours after the time fixed for holding the second caucus. In our last report we called attention to this embarrassment which should, in our opinion, be relieved by a change in the law.

In April, 1900, a caucus was held by one of the two leading political parties to elect delegations to the State and Congressional District conventions to be holden for the nomination of Presidential electors at large and by districts. Such electors were nominated by the other of the two leading political parties at the State convention of said party in 1899, it being claimed that the act of 1899 limiting the number of caucuses in this City required such a course. In order that no question could be raised as to the legality of the caucus to be held in April last, the Legislature of 1900 enacted a law authorizing in express terms the holding of such a caucus.

A call was issued in July, 1900, by a committee purporting to be the regularly accredited State Central Committee of the Socialist Labor Party for caucuses to be holden in the State to choose delegates to the several conventions, and for the nomination of Representatives in the General Court. Objections in writing being made to the holding of such caucuses in this City by other persons claiming to be the duly elected State Central Committee of that party, we gave a public hearing, at which both sides were present and submitted their evidence. The objections were sustained, as in our opinion the call was not in accordance with the requirements of law. No other call being issued there were no caucuses of this party in Boston prior to the State election. The City Committee of this party issued a call for caucuses before the City election, and, in accordance therewith, blank nominations papers were provided, and polling places were equipped and ballots printed by this Department for all the wards, though in seven wards no nominations were made. In these wards the police officers detailed for the duty carried the ballot boxes and blank ballots to the polling places in carriages, the advertised time for holding the caucus arrived, the officers waited until 8.30 P.M., as required by law, and then returned the empty ballot boxes to this office. As was suggested in our report of last year, when a similar condition existed, a change in the law seems advisable so that polling places should be provided and ballots printed only in wards where nominations are made. In the other eighteen wards the caucus returns made to this office showed that only ninety-nine persons participated, but this slim attendance was probably largely due to the fact that the party, by its vote at the State election preceding, had failed to poll three per cent. of the entire vote cast in the State for Governor, and had thereby lost its standing as a political party, and would not have, therefore, under the law, the right in the following year to hold caucuses.

The Democratic Social Party, having polled the necessary three per cent. vote at the last State election, has thus established itself as a political party, and, after compliance with the requirements of law as to the organization of its party committee, will be entitled to hold caucuses the present year.

A special caucus and election were held in March, 1900, for the purpose of filling a vacancy in the Eighth Suffolk Representative District, caused by the resignation of the sitting member in order to accept the high office in the City to which he was elected by the City Council.

In previous reports of this Department it has been said generally that there has been a great improvement from year to year both in conducting the caucuses prior to the closing of the polls and in making the returns of the ballots cast to this office. The caucuses are now controlled by the political parties who elect their own caucus officers. Incompetency can not reasonably be charged against caucus officers except in occasional instances, but a failure to perform their duty is often brought to our notice. In some cases where there is no contest no attempt is made to correctly return the number of split ballots. And when the fight is hot and the time for closing the polls is extended it too often happens that the large number of ballots are improperly counted, and as an excuse or pretended justification for such neglect it is said that a recount is inevitable, and that the caucus returns would therefore be of no value. If the law regulating the counting of ballots at elections were applicable to caucuses a great improvement in our opinion would result. At elections the law requires that the ballots when taken from the box be divided into blocks of fifty, and be counted by two inspectors only, the other two inspectors watching the work and endorsing the same if found correct, and a block tally sheet for every fifty ballots with a total tally sheet showing the figures of the several blocks constitutes an excellent system which is easily carried out by honest and efficient officers. But this Department has no authority under the law to direct the manner of counting ballots at caucuses, and has no control over the caucus officers. If the power of appointing and thereby controlling caucus officers were vested in this Board and a proper compensation were allowed for their services we believe the results would be more satisfactory than under the present system. There would undoubtedly be difficulty in satisfying the demands of factions in a party, but if competent and reliable men were appointed and they performed their duty the friction caused by factional contests would be greatly reduced.

The power of appointing election officers in this City is vested in this Board, and inasmuch as the law requires that the appointments shall be made equally from the two leading political parties it has been the practice to call upon the City Committees of such parties to suggest the names of suitable persons for our consideration. These names are submitted on sheets provided for the purpose, and among other things appear, in the handwriting of the person suggested, the age, residence, occupation, and prior service as election officer of such person. The past year the blank sheets were sent to the party committees on the first of August, and a request was particularly made that they should be returned within a month, and that it was desired that only such persons as had previously served and were voters in the precinct for which they were to be appointed, should be named. When the sheets were returned to this office they were publicly exhibited, as usual, that objections might be made and duly considered to any person so named. The result was practically the same as in previous years. In the main the election officers appointed proved to be competent. Their duties were performed intelligently and honestly, and especially in the precincts where the conduct of the elections and the counting of the ballots were in charge of officers of previous experience the returns were generally prompt and accurate. But it can hardly be expected that among the 1,146 regular officers serving at the polls there will not be instances of incompetency and neglect of duty. In previous years the instructions of this Department, that at no time during the days of elections less than four of the six election officers should be in attendance were not complied with, so that the past year, through the co-operation of the Police Department, we were informed of several cases where such instructions were not followed, and were able to act in the premises during the progress of the election. A single instance only of alcoholism while the polls were open was reported to us, and the summary removal of such officer was the result. The warden, as the presiding officer at the polls, is responsible for the conduct of the election, and has full power to command the five other precinct officers, so that with a warden properly qualified, and faithfully and impartially discharging his duty, no questions should arise as to the conduct of elections, and the votes would be honestly and accurately counted. The official returns of the precinct clerks are too often carelessly made, and in some instances show that the clerk lacks the required intelligence and capacity. It has been suggested that if wardens and clerks could be drawn for such service, somewhat as jurors are now compelled to serve, that the public would be better served. Another suggestion is to have the several ward committees submit a list of names twice or three times as large as the number to be appointed, and that the final selection could then be made by competitive examination. The political affiliation would then be unquestioned, and if the examination showed that a sufficient number were qualified to serve, more satisfactory results would be accomplished. The chief fault of the present practice, it seems to us, is that the political committees suggest names of some persons who prove to be incompetent, thereby reflecting upon the service of all. If it were fully realized that the party as well as the public is liable to suffer by the incompetency of such persons, then only suitable persons would be named for appointment. The compensation is large, and ought to secure only competent men. If the political committees will bear this in mind and act accordingly no change in the law would be called for.

As has been previously said in our reports we believe the appointment of 1,146 deputy election officers is unnecessary, and that the amount paid to them should be saved. They report at the opening of the polls to fill a possible vacancy among the regular election officers. Such vacancies do not often occur, and when they do could be filled by nomination from the floor, as they are now in many cases, owing to the failure of the deputy to report on time, and there is a feeling which has some basis, that the deputies are not generally competent to properly perform the duties of the regular officers.

ELECTION BOOTHS AND POLLING PLACES.

The voting booths made of thin corrugated steel which were purchased in 1898 are now in good condition, and prove to be well adapted for polling places. They have been painted on the outside during the past year to protect the material, and the wooden sheathing, with which they were lined throughout when it was found that as originally constructed they were not habitable in cold weather, has proved a success. This sheathing will be painted this year a lighter color than before to brighten the interior. At the opening of the polls at six o'clock some difficulty is experienced in securing sufficient light in the voting compartments and it is our intention to consider the question of lighting the booths with electricity. If it is feasible and the expense is not too great the difficulty will be practically removed. As the use of ward-rooms by this Department for outside registration in the several wards for twelve evenings preceding the State election and ten evenings preceding the City election interferes with the holding of rallies in the ward-rooms, and we are at times obliged for this reason to vacate the ward-rooms and carry on this registration in a place other than the one advertised we may deem it advisable to use these booths or the wooden booths for outside registration, and if so such additional lighting facilities will be required. When the school buildings used formerly to a large extent for polling places ceased to be so used owing to the objections of the School Committee the voting booths were placed on the streets in front of or in the immediate vicinity of the school buildings in order that the location of the precinct polling places with which the voters were familiar should be changed as little as possible. In two instances the past year the School Committee authorized the use of the basements of school buildings formerly used for polling places, as less annoyance in their opinion was thereby caused than by having the booths in front of the school buildings. We are not surprised that the presence of these booths in some localities should be a source of annoyance, but as we are obliged to use the booths for polling places we aim to so locate them as to remove objections to their presence.

RECOUNTS.

In the reports of previous years the abuse of the right to petition for a recount of ballots cast at caucuses and elections in this City has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the public. Partial remedies by placing some limitation on the right and imposing penalties upon petitioners for a recount of election ballots who make a false oath that the result of the election would be changed by the recount have been suggested but not adopted. The situation is worse if anything than before. Most of the petitions filed are not justified. Candidates for office or their representatives wish to inspect the ballots for reasons other than those contemplated by law. Blank petitions for caucus recounts have been applied for before the votes are counted, and on the day before the last City election application was made for a blank petition to recount the votes cast at said election. The application was not favorably considered. If caucus recounts were permitted only where the defeated candidate lacked by the original return a small number of votes it is claimed that the returns might be intentionally inaccurate for the purpose of obtaining a recount. The public is undoubtedly tired of these ever recurring recounts. It is thought by many that the use of voting machines at elections is the only remedy, but it is important that some remedy should be applied also at caucuses. The general recount after the last City election was conducted in the large well lighted hall which had been used the two previous years for a similar purpose in the immediate vicinity of the office. Fifteen tables manned by two clerks each allowed the counting of the votes of fifteen wards at the same time, and the tabulation was done by other competent men. By working until late in the evening of two days the work was nearly completed, but a portion of the following day was devoted to finishing the work. There was little or no friction, and all parties interested appeared to be satisfied with the manner of conducting this recount. No person elected by the precinct returns lost his election by the result of the recount, though many errors and inaccuracies were discovered in the original returns. In two precincts the examination of the ballots showed the election officers to have acted in such a manner as to call for severe criticism. In one precinct the marking of thirty-one assisted ballots regardless of the full requirements of the law and the printed instructions of this Department, was formally brought to our attention after the recount, and no excuse or justification could be reasonably claimed for such neglect of duty. In the other precinct a large number of ballots were found to contain a second cross, which mark invalidated the ballot so far as the particular office was concerned. It was obvious that the fraud was committed after the close of the polls. If the ballots had been counted by two inspectors only, with the two other inspectors watching, and all under the general supervision of the warden as the law requires such a flagrant act could not have been committed except by the connivance of all the election officers. Though suspicion pointed strongly to two inspectors the evidence was not deemed sufficient to warrant further proceedings. The six officers serving in the precinct will not again have an opportunity to serve the public under our appointment.

The numerous petitions to recount the ballots cast at the two caucuses of one of the two leading political parties and at the State election rendered it advisable to make use of the large hall also for these three recounts. It was thought necessary to have the last of the above recounts on the Sabbath day, though this action was reluctantly taken. All other recounts were carried on at our office. Some changes resulted from the recounts, but the larger number of petitions proved to be unwarranted as before remarked. In connection with recounts we have been called upon the past year more than ever before to consider challenged ballots, and it is our opinion that the law with regard to challenges, particularly at caucuses where the political affiliation of individuals is in question, fails to accomplish the purpose intended. The presiding officer of the caucus, from ignorance or otherwise, does not require the legal cause for the challenge with the name and address of the challenged person in his own handwriting and the name of the challenger to appear on the back of the ballot. The absence of these legal requirements may prevent a proper determination by this Board of the right of the challenged person to vote at the caucus. But assuming that the above requirements are fully complied with, when the hearing takes place the burden is upon the challenger to make out a case. He must prove if the cause of the challenge is that the person voted in a caucus of another political party within twelve months, that such person actually so voted. The check-list of such caucus or a copy of the same may be produced, and may show that such person's name was checked as having voted, but such evidence is not deemed sufficient to establish the fact as some other person may have voted on the name of such person, or the caucus officer may have checked the name erroneously. It is difficult to prove that the challenged party was seen to have actually voted at the caucus in question, and the result is that the large number of challenges for this cause; and many of which are undoubtedly well grounded, are not sustained. If the growing practice of persons participating in the caucuses of both of the leading political parties in the same twelve months is to be controlled, severe penalties should be imposed by law for such conduct. If the same check-list were used at both caucuses prior to the elections, and the check against the name shall be made prima facie evidence that the person whose name is so checked voted at the first caucus, as is the law in some States, the burden of evidence in hearings on challenged ballots would be shifted, and placed upon the challenged person where, in our opinion, it belongs.

During the past year twenty-seven complaints for illegal registration were filed with this Department, a much larger number than for the two previous years. In twenty-one of these complaints the evidence was deemed sufficient to issue summons. Hearings took place in eighteen cases, in six of which the complaints were sustained, and the names stricken from the voting list. Twelve of the complaints were dismissed after hearing, and three others were withdrawn by the complainant before hearing. Four other complaints were dismissed on account of the failure of the complainant to appear and submit the evidence necessary to authorize the issuing of a summons, and the remaining two complaints were dismissed, as the evidence was thought insufficient to issue summons. The necessity of a law to give the complainant in these cases authority to secure the attendance of witnesses and to provide an adequate penalty for failure to attend was recognized by the Legislature of 1900 by the passage of Chapter 267 of the Acts of that year. The authority now is adequate, and there is no such obstacle to the presentation and prosecution of these complaints.

As the Ballot Law Commission of the City of Boston, seven objections in writing were filed with us to the nominations of candidates to appear on the official ballot at the City election. Four of these objections were to Aldermanic candidates, two to nominations of candidates for the Common Council, and one objection called into question the legality of the nomination by one of the two leading political parties of the eight candidates for School Committee. On account of the disability of the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court the Senior Justice of said court presided at the hearings as provided by law. Hearings took place in four of the cases, in two of which the objections were sustained, and the other two were decided adversely to the objectors. Two objections were waived before hearing, and in the remaining case the political designation of the candidate clearly appearing not to be within the Statute, the nomination did not appear on the ballot. Such witnesses as were in attendance were summoned by the interested parties. There is some doubt of the powers and duties of the Commission to summon witnesses, and as to their compensation. The law provides that the Boston Ballot Law Commission shall, in all matters relating to objections and questions arising in the case of nominations of candidates for City offices, have the powers and perform the duties prescribed for the Ballot Law Commission of the Commonwealth. Section 155 of the Election Act of 1898 reads as follows: "The State Ballot Law Commission may summon witnesses, and administer to them oaths, and may require the production of books and papers at a hearing before it upon any matter within its jurisdiction. Witnesses shall be summoned in the same manner, be paid the same fees, and be subject to the same penalties as witnesses summoned before the General Court. A summons may be signed and an oath may be administered by any member of said commission." Before committees of the General Court, authorized to send for persons and papers, witnesses by law are summoned by the Sergeant-at-arms or his deputies, and their compensation is paid by the State. It seems to us advisable that the law should be made more explicit as to the powers and duties of the Boston Ballot Law Commission in this respect. This could be accomplished, in our opinion, by providing that witnesses may be summoned in the same manner, and paid the same fees as witnesses in civil cases pending before the courts.

VOTING MACHINES.

Under date of October 29, 1900, we made a report to you as requested on the matter of recording and counting votes by machinery. In this report, which was submitted by you to the Board of Aldermen November 5, 1900, and printed in the minutes of their meeting of that day, we set forth at some length the law of the State requiring the examination and approval of voting machines by the State Examining Commission before they could be used in this City, and the result of our investigation of the different machines. At that time three machines only had been approved in this State, and one other machine has since been so approved. We expressed our opinion that if a machine should by practical operation demonstrate its ability to successfully do the work in the manner required by law, the public would be better served, and would favor a change from the present system of voting both at caucuses and elections, and we concurred heartily with your views that in the interest of a prompt, honest and accurate count an opportunity be given for a trial of voting by machinery by the purchase of one or more voting machines. The power to purchase and order voting and counting machines in this City is vested in the Board of Aldermen, while the power to determine upon the same is vested with this Department. An order to purchase voting machines that a trial be made of the system was subsequently introduced into the Board of Aldermen, but failed to pass. A bill is now being considered by a Committee of the Legislature, which gives to this Department the power to purchase voting machines. If this should become a law, the matter of making a tentative trial at least in this City of voting by machinery will be promptly acted upon. Serious questions have been raised against the adoption generally of voting machines under existing laws, and these questions perhaps can be settled by the Legislature now in session. The law in this State with regard to challenged ballots is, in our opinion, so exacting that a ballot-box with ballots would have to be provided in the several polling places in addition to voting machines. If voting machines are to be used, by a change in the law the use of ballot-boxes and ballots could be dispensed with in such cases, by providing that a record of such challenged votes should be secretly kept and guarded by one of the caucus or election officers and thereby, it seems to us, fully protect the voter and the public, and have the effect practically of the present law. It is known that one of the approved voting machines has been used at an election in this State for Representatives in the General Court, for which written ballots are required by the Constitution of the Commonwealth. Such a system might perhaps be generally adopted if all the candidates in nomination for the office should consent to waive the above objection, but without such waiver this board would not wish to endanger the election of a member of the House of Representatives. While the Legislature is in session, and considering amendments to the law relating to voting machines, it would seem an opportune time for the lower branch to obtain the opinion of the Supreme Judicial Court on this question of law, which directly bears on the validity of their election. It is claimed by some that Article XXI. of the Amendments to the Constitution, which declares among other things that "the manner of calling and conducting the meetings for the choice of representatives and of ascertaining their election shall be prescribed by law" would authorize a legislative enactment which shall provide a method of election of Representatives to the General Court different than the requirements of Article III. of Section 3, of Chapter I. of the Constitution, which reads as follows: "Every member of the House of Representatives shall be chosen by written votes." If this claim be held invalid it will be necessary to amend said Article III., which can only be done by the action of two successive Legislatures and the subsequent ratification by popular vote.

JURORS.

In preparing the Jury List of 1900, so far as possible only such persons were selected as were believed to be well qualified to serve as jurors, and in other respects fulfilled the requirements of Chapter 515 of the Acts of 1897. Few complaints have been received against persons whose names appeared in such list, and from personal inquiry of officials, and otherwise, we feel justified in stating that such persons as were drawn for service from such list proved, on the whole, to be competent, and performed their duty satisfactorily. The list, in our judgment, should be made up impartially from the several wards. In some wards more men can be found possessing the necessary qualifications of a juror than in others, but in no ward is it impossible to select competent and honest men largely from the skilled labor class, who look upon jury service as a duty and honor, and cheerfully perform the duty considered so obnoxious by some.

The Jury List for the coming year was prepared in the usual manner, but the applications from persons desiring to be placed thereon were greater than for several years. Such applications are not encouraged, and come in most cases from persons not specially qualified for jury service. It is far preferable that the Board should make its own selection of names from the information at its command as the law contemplates, rather than permit outside influence to dictate or influence such selection. When the list of the year was prepared and printed as a City document it was posted in two public places, as required by law, before it could be submitted to the Board of Aldermen for revision and acceptance. By the publication of the names, or a portion of them, in the daily papers, and in one of the latter an erroneous statement appearing to the effect that objections on the part of those whose names were printed in the list would be entertained by this Board, we were called upon to explain to a large number of persons, objecting principally on the ground that their business would seriously suffer, that the list was final so far as we were concerned, and that the power of the Aldermen as the revising authority was limited by Statute to striking out only the names of persons convicted of crime, who had not been pardoned on the ground of innocence, or of persons not legally qualified to serve as jurors. The list, as printed, must therefore be sent to the Aldermen without change, but accompanying it a statement may be submitted giving information obtained after the posting of the list as to names of persons contained therein who are exempt from jury service in this City by reason of coming within the legal exceptions.

During the year a special venire was issued summoning one hundred and fifty persons from whom twelve were to be chosen as the jury in a capital case. Those appearing in response to the summons seemed to be unusually well qualified for the duty, and the large number who were relieved from service were marked as exempt for the three years following. We believe that the law intended that only the twelve constituting the jury should alone be so exempt. If we are in error the suggestion in our report of last year, that Clerks of Courts be required to send to the authority preparing the jury list the names of persons who actually served, is not called for. Without an interpretation of the law by competent authority, we shall continue to eliminate from the list the names of all persons drawn as appears by the records of the Board of Aldermen.

More than the usual number of propositions are before the Committee on Election Laws of the Legislature now in session, which contemplate changes in the law relating to the assessment and registration of voters and, to the conduct of caucuses and elections. The amendments suggested with regard to the enrolment of voters would, if adopted, be in the nature of a return to the methods which were made use of by the political parties at caucuses prior to the law of the State regulating caucuses. The effect of such changes are thoroughly understood by the Legislature, and the importance of careful and serious deliberation is realized. It has been the effort of this Department to enforce to the best of its ability existing laws, and to suggest changes only when defects were discovered which we believed should be remedied. The caucus and election laws of this State are largely technical, and therefore not well understood by the public generally, but, on the whole, we believe that the principal objections to the present system are due to the methods used to evade the law rather than to the law itself, and the same conditions would exist, in our opinion, whatever changes in the law were adopted.

The holding of primary elections is a matter in which the public are now greatly interested, and it is favored because it is believed that many of the flagrant abuses of the caucus laws would be thereby corrected. Whether there should be two or more polling places in each ward; whether the caucus officers in this city, under the present or the new system of holding caucuses, should be appointed by this Department and paid for their services; whether one ballot should be provided for such primary elections, or a separate ballot for each political party, and the method of obtaining the political affiliation of the voter participating in such primary elections are matters of detail to be decided only after most careful consideration.

After an examination of the propositions before the Legislature to amend the caucus laws we believe that existing defects can be remedied by favorable action on at least two matters. We refer to the requirements that all nominations of caucus candidates must be made on the original blank nomination papers furnished by law, and prohibiting the pasting or attaching of another paper containing names and acceptances of candidates, and the names of the five nominators previously written. (Section 1 of House No. 795). The practice which the above amendment seeks to change has been allowed of late by one of the political parties in this city, and does not seem to be in conformity with law. And with both of the leading political parties the nomination papers properly made out in all other respects, except as to the acceptance of persons named as delegates to conventions, are filed with such acceptances on separate cards or papers, thus clearly permitting such acceptances to be obtained before the distribution of the nomination papers, and thereby gaining an unfair advantage and priority over such papers as are prepared strictly in accordance with the law. Though this is a matter which political committees can, in our opinion, under the present law control, we believe it advisable that the practice should be declared contrary to law as provided in the bill above referred to. The other change in the law which seems to us to be called for is contained in House No. 928, which fixes definitely the time for withdrawing nomination papers filed with the political committee. The present law reads "within two week days of the announcement thereof," while the provision in the proposed amendment is "within forty-eight hours succeeding five o'clock of the last day fixed for opening nomination papers." This defect in the law was brought to our attention at a hearing before the Supreme Judicial Court, and the decision of the court was such as to require the above change in the law.

One other defect in the law we here desire to briefly refer to, though the necessity for an immediate change does not exist as in the two other matters. In the event of a special caucus and election between May 1st and the time when the new voting list is prepared and printed, which is usually in this City about the middle of August, there is no law as formerly authorizing at such special caucus and election the use of the voting list of the preceding year. Such use of the old list was permitted by Section 67 of Chapter 417 of the Acts of 1893, which act was expressly repealed by the Election Act of 1898. An amendment by way of addition to Section 66 of Chapter 548 of the Acts of 1898 would give the necessary authority.

The law enacted by the Legislature of 1900, requiring the Commissioners of Prisons of the State, the Penal Institutions Commissioners and the Pauper Institutions Trustees and the Insane Hospital Trustees of this City to transmit to this Board ten days before each State and City election the names of all persons then confined in the institutions under their charge, whose terms of confinement expire after the date of such election and who had a last known residence in this City, giving such residence by street and number when it is possible to do so, and further requiring the Board to make a memorandum in red ink opposite the names of such of said persons as appeared in the voting lists stating the institutions in which such persons are then confined, and to send copies of the voting lists containing such memoranda to the election officers for use at the polls, has, in our opinion, failed to accomplish the purpose intended. A large number of names was sent to us of persons confined in the State prison and Concord Reformatory, but residences were given in but few instances, and without such residences the names can not be found on the voting list. The superintendents of these institutions should be required to obtain the residences and ages in all cases. The returns from the Penal Institutions Commissioner more fully give the residence, but comparatively few of such names were found on the voting list. But a single instance of voting or attempting to vote on a name so marked came to our attention, and this proved to be a most unfortunate error. A father, whose son, bearing the same name was in confinement, found his name marked and his right to vote was questioned, but after an explanation which brought back sad memories and made public a fact previously comparatively unknown was allowed to vote as he was entitled so to do. The failure to add in the return to us the "junior" to the son's name created the embarrassment which we deeply regretted, though the mistake could not be attributed to us. The pauper and insane inmates of our City institutions not being considered to be "in confinement" within the meaning of the statute their names were not returned to us. The word "persons" being used the names of females as well as males of all ages resident of this City and inmates of public penal institutions in the State and City should be returned under the law if the same is strictly complied with. Though the intention of the law is plain, it is always advisable that public officials should have their duties defined beyond a question. An amendment to the Statute referred to is therefore desirable, and in order to give further opportunity to prevent fraudulent voting in the manner proposed every effort should be made to seasonably make full and accurate returns to us. The purpose of the law can then be more satisfactorily and effectually accomplished.

The above suggestions as to changes in the laws of the State are all intended to perfect existing laws relating to caucuses and elections. Propositions involving an entire change of system, such as the bills concerning an enrollment of party voters and allowing a single cross marked on the ballot to cover all party candidates are matters which do not seem to call for any expression of opinion on our part.

The necessity of changing the precinct lines of the several wards by creating additional precincts was referred to in our report of last year. The inequalities then existing in the number of male voters were set forth, and the differences are now even greater. The number in the several precincts varies from 990 to 278. The average of the 191 precincts on the present basis of 106,879 male voters is 559. In 80 precincts the average is exceeded, and in 111 precincts it is less. In two wards all precincts contain less than the average, and in two wards the average is exceeded in all precincts. If additional precincts should be established by ordinance so that the total number shall be 250 the average number of male voters in the precincts would be 427, which is as many as can be properly taken care of. While in our opinion it is too late

A great loss was sustained by the City, and especially by this Department, in the death on February 28, 1900, of Mr. Linus E. Pearson, Chairman of the Board. His long service as a public official was universally characterized by an upright and conscientious discharge of his duty. Always loyally devoted to the political party which he represented as a Registrar of Voters and as an Election Commissioner all parties esteemed him highly, and had implicit confidence in his administration. Ever constant in his duties, and striving to do more than his health in his latter years would permit, he wore himself out in the public service. The following memorial was adopted by the surviving members of this Board March 15, 1900, and spread upon the records of the Department:

He has left behind him an example of uniform devotion, of steadfastness of purpose, of unswerving integrity which it is easy to praise, but not easy to imitate.

To fill the vacancy for the term ending April 30, 1903, caused by the death of Mr. Pearson, Mr. Melancthon W. Burlen who was secretary of this Board from its first organization July 1, 1895 until June 2, 1898, assumed the duties of his office under your appointment of July 18, 1900. The term of Timothy F. McDonough, Esq., for four years a member of the Board, expired April 30, 1900, and Mr. John J. Hogan, appointed as his successor for the term of four years ending April 30, 1904, commenced his official duties May 1, 1900.

EXPENSES.

The amount estimated as the probable expenditures of this Department the past year was $130,000. This amount met with your approval, was favorably reported upon by the Committee on Appropriations, and was allowed by the City Council. There was expended during the year the sum of $124,001.24 as appears below in detail. The balance unexpended and remaining to the credit of this Department was $5,998.76.

In submitting to you under date of December 29, 1900, our estimate of the expenditures for the coming year we gave an itemized statement of the same, and in an accompanying letter the reasons appeared why we believed the amount ($135,000) necessary to properly carry on the Department. The preparation of the card index of registered male voters requires a large clerical force, which would otherwise not be employed at this season. It is hoped that this index will prove useful and valuable, and thus justify the expense. Should the amount estimated by us as necessary under the existing conditions be reduced every effort will be made to carry on the Department within the amount allowed. Repairs on booths which are deemed advisable can be postponed. But if any of the propositions before the Legislature affecting this Department and entailing increased expenses should prevail, we should be obliged to ask for more funds towards the close of the year.

The following pages show in tabulated form the number of assessed polls, registered voters, men and women, and votes cast in this City at the State and Municipal elections in 1900, and also the votes cast at the special election in Ward 8; and we have also included the returns of the last United States Census, showing the population by wards and precincts.

The inventory of the property of the Department, prepared as required by the Revised Ordinances, and the names of the employees of the office, with the salaries paid and other details as directed by your printed circular, bearing date of February 15, 1901, are also included in the following pages.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE P. SANGER,
PATRICK J. KENNEDY,
JOHN J. HOGAN,

William S. Tolman, John J. Capelle, James F. Crawley, Allen H. Farnham, Henry Karle, John E. Sughrue, James E. O'Reilly, Thomas F. Doherty, Paul D. Kane, and Henry L. Pelkus, Assistant Registrars, were especially employed at $4 a day to prepare the card index of registered male voters.

Maurice Murphy and George W. Knights, mechanics, were employed on both above mentioned dates at the storehouse in South Boston at $3.50 and $3 a day, respectively, to repair booths and other property of the Department.

Inventory of Property Belonging to or Used by the Election Department.

- 103 Voting booths, made of thin corrugated steel, built in 1897 and 1898.
- 20 Wooden voting booths, built in 1898, as permanent structures.
- 34 Old wooden voting booths, known as "knock-down" buildings.

The above booths when not in use are stored at different places in the City. Two additional old wooden booths, not removed from locations, are also used as polling places. In each booth belong railings and voting compartments, tables, chairs, stove, and other necessary furnishings and voting paraphernalia. The Department now owns 1,750 chairs, 744 tables, 554 voting compartments, and 1,106 wooden horses for the same, 200 stools for ballot-boxes, 196 counting boards, 174 stoves and the required lamps, coal-hods, shovels, pokers, coal-barrels, and other minor equipment for the voting booths.

Many of the old wooden voting booths were loaned in former years, by order of the Mayor, to other Departments of the City. Eighteen of these have not been returned, and are charged to the following Departments: Health Department, 1; Street Department, 1; Bath Department, 14; City Hospital, 2. Of the booths loaned to the State in 1898 for the use of troops, four were not returned; a fair value for the same was paid to the City.

- 185 Federal ballot-boxes, many in poor condition, used at elections.
- 25 United States ballot-boxes, comparatively new, used for caucuses.
- 25 Standard ballot-boxes, formerly used at caucuses, and now used as "extras" at caucuses and elections.
- 29 Acme ballot-boxes, constantly in need of repairs, 6 of which are regularly used at elections and the balance as "extras."

All of the above are kept in the basement room in the Old Court House. At the storehouse in South Boston are 277 old ballot-boxes, not answering the present requirements of law, but placed at each polling-place at elections for temporary use in case of emergency; also 108 old revolving ballot-boxes, not now of any available use.

Office furniture in Rooms 1, 2, 8, and 9, Old Court House, used as the offices of the Department, consisting of 8 roll-top desks, 8 swivel chairs for the same, and 23 smaller swivel chairs, 1 library table and 5 library chairs, 2 atlas cases, 3 card index cabinets, 1 metal filing case, 1 roll-front document case, 1 wardrobe, 1 coat-rack, 4 long tables, 2 counters, 1 typewriting table, 1 large iron safe, 3 small tables, 4 clocks, metal frame rack in one of large vaults for holding caucus and election cardboard boxes (about 500 in number), and books, two typewriting machines, stationery, and required minor furnishings and fixtures for office purposes.
